Rush end Dunn shines in football heart-breaker

Third-year rush end Wayne Dunn had an exceptional performance in Concordia's heart-breaking 12-11 loss last Saturday in a game that was both Concordia's Homecoming and the 14th annual Shrine Bowl.

Before 2,000 rain-soaked football fans at Concordia Stadium, Dunn, a third-year defensive lineman, recorded five tackles and two sacks. His efforts were rewarded with a barrage of silverware after the game. He was awarded the Ted Elsby Memorial Trophy as the outstanding defensive lineman in the game. The award is voted on and presented annually by the Montreal Alouettes Alumni Association. It is named for former Alouette Ted Elsby.

Dunn is the fifth Stinger to win the trophy since its inception in 1990. Previous Concordia winners include: rush end Sean Farmer, 1999; defensive tackle Jeff Anderson, '98; defensive end Danny Lavallée, '94; and defensive end Paul Chesser, '90.

Dr. Fred Lowy, Concordia rector and vice-chancellor, presented Dunn with the Homecoming Cup, which is awarded annually to the outstanding Stinger in the Homecoming game. The third-year sociology student was also named the Concordia Shrine Bowl MVP as selected by members of the Montreal media.

Dunn, a native of LaSalle, Que., has enjoyed a brilliant career as a member of the Stingers. In 1998 – his rookie campaign – he was a key member of Concordia's championship team. The Stingers won the Atlantic Bowl and were edged out by the Saskatchewan Huskies in the national championship.

In 1999, he was an O-QIFC all-star and then he was selected to play in the CFL Future Stars all-star game in Edmonton last May. This season, he has been named one of the Stingers team captains.

Concordia Athletes of the Week

Jo-Anne Belair of the women's soccer team and Mehdi Mourali of the men's soccer team have been named Concordia Stinger athletes of the week for the period ending Sept. 24.

Belair, a third-year mid-fielder, collected three goals in two games for the Stingers last week. In Concordia's 7-2 loss to the Bishop's Gaiters last Saturday, she scored one goal. Then in Sunday's 3-0 win over the UQTR Patriotes, Belair collected two goals. A native of Beaconsfield, she is studying in the management program at Concordia.

Mourali was instrumental in helping his team pick up a couple of points last week. The 24-year-old mid-fielder had a strong game in Concordia's 3-1 win over the UQTR Patriotes on Sunday. He scored two goals to help the Stingers earn their first win of the season. Mourali, a native of Paris, France, is a marketing student.
